

CULTIVATING PRO-LIFE LEADERS

The Life Principles Academy is a half-day seminar that gives you tools for the new pro-life evangelization. Learn how to talk to friends, family members, and coworkers about why you are pro-life — using wit, logic, and unassailable truth!

The five-hour training includes:

Session 1: The tragic decision to undergo an abortion or assisted suicide usually comes as a reaction to a situation that appears to threaten a person's sense of meaning and purpose. If we can elevate the definition of meaning and purpose, we can change how that person makes decisions when faced with difficult life issues, such as an unplanned pregnancy or a terminal illness. Attendees will learn how to promote healthy interpretations of success, quality of life, love, and freedom using The Four Levels of Happiness, and will be able to apply these healthy interpretations to pro-life ethics.

Session 2: When people embrace the liberating truth that living for others leads to deeper meaning and happiness than living for the self, whole new doors open to accepting fundamental, universal, and age-old principles of reason, ethics, and justice. These key principles not only point directly to pro-life values and beliefs, they also apply to every social issue involving morality and justice. Attendees will master these principles and discover how to teach them to others.

Session 3: Healing the Culture has developed a wealth of programs, online resources, print materials, presentation tools, and media products to help people become strong advocates for and effective teachers of the Life Principles. Attendees will explore each of these tools and understand how to maximize them in a variety of settings, such as school classrooms, home-schools, religious education programs, adult education, youth groups, Confirmation programs, Sunday School, book clubs, extracurricular clubs and activities, and much more!

Q&A: Attendees have the opportunity to ask questions and network with others about their ideas for partnerships and collaboration.

"Go Make a Difference": Attendees who complete the entire LPA course will receive a Certificate of Completion and $70 worth of books and resources to help them teach the Life Principles to others in their community. They also become members of an elite group of LPA graduates, entitling them to other benefits, such as periodic newsletters, opportunities for continuing education, and access to expert advising from our team of certified LPA instructors.
